

Critter Camp

Summer 2011 – Register now!

Cathy's Critters' on-going mission is to educate kids and families about rural life, science, our food supply, and America's agrarian roots.

We want to instill a sense of belonging to our world through farming and a better understanding of the natural world in which we live, and which gives us life.

We will have four 1-week sessions this summer in two age groups plus a new session for mothers and young children. Activities will include the following themes:

- Animal care of farm and exotic animals: Hold a lizard and feed a kangaroo!
- Horse care: Learn about horse safety, health and grooming.
- Goat-milking: Learn how to milk a goat!
- Science: Explore your world using microscopes and other instruments.
- Crafts and games: Learn how to throw on a pottery wheel.
- Organic Gardening: Plant and fertilize with farm-made compost.
